TRADITIONS

OF THE HOTEL BAR

American cocktails and drinking culture as we know them today were largely influenced by the hotel bar. In the early 18th Century, cities were built around hotels. They were seen as gathering places for the community to relax and converse about daily issues. We owe much of our modern cocktails to these famous hotel bars. Below are listed some classics created in those influential hotel bars as well as a few from our present-day friends. Cheers!
